

AS WE ENTER INTO A NEW YEAR, the Boone and Crockett Club needs your support now more than ever before to continue building successful conservation and education programs that teach our youth the principles of stewardship and the importance of healthy ecosystems.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Sample,

The Boone and Crockett Club has stood guard over the sporting way of life, North America's wildlife and its habitats since 1887. Not many non-profit organizations can say they have been upholding their mission for as long as our Club has, and we believe our long history is a defining characteristic of our success.

The only way the Boone and Crockett Club has been able to maintain this success is because of the generous support we receive from members like you. With your donations, the Club has been a powerful voice for the hunter-conservationist on issues that affect hunting privileges and wildlife populations.

When Theodore Roosevelt and other visionaries founded the Boone and Crockett Club, they did so to protect our hunting heritage against future threats. The Club still exists today because hunters have needed us to continue this work, but we must not let our guard down now.

As we enter into a new year, the Boone and Crockett Club needs your support now more than ever before. We need to continue building successful conservation and education programs that teach our youth the principles of stewardship and the importance of healthy ecosystems. But it cannot happen without the timely and significant financial support we receive from our members.

Your financial support will enable us to continue our efforts that promote outdoor ethics for all people and emphasize the shared use of our natural resources. With your contribution, the Club can continue advocating to all the ethic of respect for wildlife and wild places.
